

Queen's University Students' Union

Part-Time Student Officer Report

Role: EPS Faculty Rep

Name: Ryan Zantinge

Period: 2019/2020 academic year

Introduction

I'm a MSc BIM Project Management student who's new to Queen's as of 2019. I wanted to get involved with the SU to enhance student voice and push forward the green agenda.

Key Events

- QUB Student Hardship Fun(d) Run
 - This has been going on in the background for a couple of weeks, however myself or one of the fantastic people helping me with this will be reaching out to the SU / Queen's Sport / Grad School / EPS Faculty / others imminently. Essentially it's a fundraiser in which you sign up and run / walk to raise money for the student hardship fund. Hoping to get a good turnout and raise some decent cash!

Further Comments / Additional Info

- Still waiting for the Faculty to get back on LinkedIn Learning subscriptions for students, but hopefully this gets approval especially given the current circumstances. This would also feed into my Partnership Project (sustainability training for students) which has been postponed due to a combination of my neck injury and the pandemic.
- With the help of SU VP Education, we've gained student representation at Faculty level in EPS
- Too many roles for one body
 - While I've really enjoyed working in all of the positions that I currently hold and meeting all the different people they've introduced me to, it is a stretch to fulfil all of their requirements to the level that they deserve. Add two part time jobs and a MSc on top and it's a miracle that I'm alive. In hindsight, I should have only retained my position as Faculty Rep and passed on the others.
